- Clicking “e-Mail Test”, your client starts, prepares an e-mail to software@aim-sportline.com and automatically attaches the test file; this occurs for those users that have a client software.

- Clicking “Open Test Folder” the software opens the folder containing all files created for each test; among all the file named as the test you want to send select the one in “.xrk” format; this option is available for all users.
